THE DUKE ENDOWMENT

NC DEPARTMENT OF
HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Purpose:

- To learn more about where LIAs are in the process of organizing for regional- or county-spread of Triple P
- To explore readiness for the and mutual fit of this support opportunity with what the LIA or county-cluster region is trying to accomplish
- To identify and explore areas of needed support and levels of support needed
- To inform decisions regarding a possible partnership between a given LIA and the NC Triple P Support System

Preface

Some Guidance for Using the Protocol

- Specific assessment items are designed to prompt additional follow-up questions and brief discussion onsite.
- The adapted Romney assessment of readiness for Triple P will prime for the subsequent discussion of organizational readiness.
- The Organizational Readiness for Implementing Change (ORIC) assessment will be completed (paper and pencil) by each participant onsite. Doing so will guide group discussion. The Impact Center will collect each completed assessment for review later.

Preparation for the Site Visit

- Impact Center team to send agenda to the site and remind the site of the general topics and format for the day, and that all site attendees should be familiar with the submitted RFI response.
- PCANC and Impact Center teams to review and clarify roles regarding facilitation of the site visit.
- Review site visit agenda.
- Take some time to review the site's RFI response, noting areas for further questioning as they align with the site visit protocol.
